

Dear birthparent,

We are Colin and Elizabeth, a responsible and fun loving couple that have been together for 13 years – and more in love every day. We have been married for nearly six years and are really excited about the next chapter in our lives – being parents!

We are fortunate enough to have extended family nearby, all thrilled to welcome the newest member of the family. Being the eldest of her cousins, Elizabeth has watched over other children since she was eight years old. She has experience babysitting, hosting summer camps and teaching Sunday school, while Colin has been a Boy Scout leader and works with children of all ages at a gaming shop.

Just as communication and support are at the core of our marriage, we expect to offer the same to our children. Family always comes first. We plan to raise a child to be proud of who they are, where they came from, and confident in the knowledge that they have so many people, especially us, to love and support them.

We currently live in a five bedroom, three bath home with a fairly open floor plan. Our house is one of our favorite places to be. We have movie nights, family get-togethers, and game nights here, either with large groups or just the two of us. We chose this house because of its quiet neighborhood that was near schools, shopping, and even medical facilities. It was ideal for whatever we may need and close to family that we see often.

We both have college educations but work outside our degrees. Colin was trained as a graphic designer but went to work where his passion lies, in the gaming industry, which allows both children and adults to cooperate and collaborate. Elizabeth has a degree in business management, and has used that to manage clinical drug trials for upcoming pharmaceuticals breakthroughs. She enjoys knowing that she has done a small part to bring better healthcare to patients worldwide. We both feel that the important thing is to enjoy learning and we both are willing to help and support a child reach their fullest potential.

Colin enjoys drawing and painting, while Elizabeth enjoys crafting and reading. We both enjoy going to the movies and hopping in the car to take a road trip to explore the city or the nearby country side.

We are thankful that you have taken the time to consider us as possible adoptive parents for your baby. We know it cannot be easy, but know that if you choose us to be your baby's parents, they will always know how much they are loved.

Thank you,

Colin and Elizabeth
