

2014 ANNUAL REPORT

Presbyterian Children'sSM
Homes and Services of Texas and Louisiana

A MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT AND CEO

Dear Friends:

Each year as I review the facts presented in our annual report, I must confess to feelings of pride. I hope such feelings are not considered a sin, but to paraphrase the well-known comment of a former church leader, I am sinfully proud of Presbyterian Children's Homes and Services (PCHAS). I think I can be forgiven this potential transgression, because the pride isn't about us, it's about the opportunity to respond to God's call to be a resource to those children, youth, and entire families that are suffering in various ways. My long tenure with PCHAS gives me the perspective necessary to recognize and appreciate a trajectory of growth that allows us to serve more young people and families each year through an ever expanding continuum of services. This annual report is a part of our covenant with you to be good stewards of the resources you make available to help those we serve. These pages will reflect the lives touched and the progress made by those who have come into our care. I give thanks for this fine old organization, its 112 years of history, and those faithful supporters who enable this work to be done. I have good reason to be proud.

For the Children,

A MESSAGE FROM OUR BOARD CHAIR

Dear Friends:

I listen to the news, glance at the headlines of the local paper, hear the conversations in the hallways of the workplace, and I thank God for Presbyterian Children's Homes and Services and you. What a blessed partnership. In a world where we are reminded daily that children suffer from poverty, abuse, devastation of wars, and futures without hope, you offer your talents, your time, your prayers and your resources. You are a blessing in the lives of the children entrusted to the care of PCHAS. Your faithfulness in this ministry bears witness to the love and life of our Lord, Jesus Christ.

Know that you are important to us and that your gifts improve the lives of children and families. We could not continue the work of PCHAS without your support. I give thanks for you.

"And he took the children in his arms, put his hands on them and blessed them."
Mark 10:16

The PCHAS Way

Presbyterian Children's Homes and Services continues to provide Christ centered care and support to children and families in need through seven core programs:

- Child and Family
- Foster Care
- Adoption
- Education
- Group Homes for Children
- Single Parent Family
- Transitional Living

Each of these service programs is designed to meet the needs of children and families in different life situations, from an abused child needing a safe place to live to a struggling family needing guidance and assistance during times of high stress. With your support and prayers, we served over 4,200 children and families in need. Thank you for making this possible.

We'd love to tell you a story about each of the 4,200 children and families we served last year, because each has a wonderful story to share. Space however will limit us to the following seven stories that illustrate the life-changing work we engage in every day.

CHILD AND FAMILY

Meet Ben and Amy

While many of the children are referred to PCHAS Group Homes by the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services, private placements are still a priority, and make up the majority of the children in our Group Homes. Here's a story about a girl placed into our care by her grandfather.

A grandfather, Ben was raising his 16-year-old granddaughter, Amy. Ben clearly loved his granddaughter, and was making every effort to connect with her and give her what she needed. But Amy was depressed and was isolating herself from others. The family was referred to PCHAS through the family's therapist. After talking with Ben and Amy, a PCHAS Child and Family Specialist recommended that Ben place Amy in a PCHAS Group Home. Ben agreed that placement in a PCHAS Group Home was the best way to help Amy. He also wanted to learn some parenting skills that would better equip him to support Amy emotionally.

When she toured the PCHAS Group Home in Itasca, Amy was accompanied by her grandfather, step-grandmother, her grandmother, PCHAS Child and Family staff and the youth pastor from her church. Amy was moved to see so many people surrounding her with love and support. “I never knew I had so many people who cared about me,” she said. The day of placement, as everyone sat around the table to set family goals, Ben, with tears in his eyes, looked across the table at his smiling granddaughter and said, “Just to see her smile again makes me so happy. I was afraid she was lost forever. Thank you.”

Amy responded positively to her Home Parents as they balanced structure and nurture, and engaged her grandfather in visits with Amy. Ben's relationship with Amy is growing healthy and strong as he learns more about his granddaughter and how to communicate more effectively with her. Amy came out of her isolation, is outgoing and happy. “Although the family has thanked us many times,” said the Group Home Parents, “We feel that we have been the most blessed to see the growth and love in this family blossom. We look forward to seeing this family become stronger, with the goal of reunification at the end of the school year.”

“Research shows that each time a child is moved from one home to another, it compounds the emotional trauma they’ve been through.”

Meet Sarah

Sarah is 17 years old and heading to college. Typical? Not at all. Why? Sarah has been in the foster care system since she was three years old. During this time, she was bounced from one foster home to another. Sarah has been in more than 12 homes during her young life.

Research shows that each time a child is moved from one home to another, it compounds the emotional trauma they’ve been through, and the child falls six months behind in school. No wonder only 46% of the children in foster care graduate from high school. The odds were certainly stacked against Sarah.

That is until she was placed with new foster parents, the Greens. Since being placed with the Greens, Sarah has stabilized, caught up academically and has received several scholarships to attend college! Sarah has been so happy in the Greens’ home that she has asked if her younger sister, Nora, who has also lived in many different foster homes over the years, could also be placed with the Greens. “I want my sister to see how great it is to actually have a mom and dad after all these years,” said Sarah.

Sarah and the Greens should be in the dictionary under the word “perseverance,” which has two meanings:

- 1) Steady persistence in a course of action, a purpose, a state, etc., especially in spite of difficulties, obstacles, or discouragement.
- 2) Theology. Continuance in a state of grace to the end, leading to eternal salvation.

Sarah and the Greens embody both meanings of perseverance. The Greens have literally been a Christ figure to Sarah -- providing her with hope and healing so that she can become all that God intends.

“We’ve seen her happiness and have been so happy for her. We’re really proud of what Sarah has accomplished with her life!” said the Greens at Sarah’s high school graduation.

ADOPTION

Meet the Van Roo Family

“Several years ago, my husband and I adopted two boys through PCHAS foster-to-adopt program. Through this program, we opened up our home and hearts to two adorable, rambunctious, fun-loving boys, Nathan and Joshua, as foster parents. After some time, the biological parents’ parental rights were taken away and we finalized the adoption. Our family was finally complete: two parents, two cats, two dogs and two boys.

Because Nathan and Joshua were abused and neglected by their biological family, they have very deep wounds. Traditional talk or play therapy did not work for our children. Our oldest son had recently come out of his fifth inpatient mental health hospitalization. These hospitalizations only reinforced to our son that if he “misbehaved” he would be sent away just like in his biological family. It wasn’t building a trusting and loving relationship. Sadly, we were considering placing our child in a residential treatment facility.

Then we met Lauren Lieb, PCHAS’ Child and Family Specialist in Austin. Lauren shared the benefits of Trust-

Based Relational Intervention, or TBRI. It is used by caregivers to treat traumatized children. PCHAS began implementing TBRI in its programs shortly before my family and I came into PCHAS’ care. The services we have received from Lauren and PCHAS in the last six months has completely transformed our family. TBRI has taught me how to be a better mother. It has helped me be more nurturing to my sons.

TBRI is tough work. And I get odd looks when I pull my bag of TBRI tricks out when my children and I are in public. But I know deep down it’s what my children need. By no means are we out of the woods. Each day my husband and I remind ourselves that we are in it for the long haul. We want to help break the cycle of trauma, abuse and neglect caused by their biological family. Because of the positive changes I’ve seen with TBRI, I have decided to become a social worker and share TBRI with other families.

With your generous donations, you are helping so many families just like mine. Thank You!”

“PCHAS took me off the streets and helped me move away from the difficult life I could have had.”

EDUCATION

Meet Joe Rosales

When he was twelve years old, Joe Rosales’ parents sought rehabilitation for their drug use and placed Joe in a PCHAS Group Home.

“PCHAS took me off the streets and helped me move away from the difficult life I could have had,” said Joe. “When I first came to the Group Home, it was very intimidating. I was so used to being neglected, the structure imposed by my Home Parents was hard to get used to. Eventually, I realized that structure was good for me,” said Joe.

After Joe left the Group Home, he attended college for a year, but had a difficult time adjusting to the freedom of college life. Now 28 years old, he proudly serves in the United States Air Force. He served two six-month tours in Kuwait and eight months in Afghanistan and earned two associate’s degrees along the way (Criminal Justice, and Instructor of Technology and Military Science). He is currently pursuing a bachelor’s degree. Joe receives financial aid for his textbooks and supplies from PCHAS’ Advanced Education Services.

The Advanced Education team not only helps high school graduates in PCHAS Group Homes submit college applications, apply for financial aid and find housing, but also provides funding, career counseling and emotional support for recent graduates as well as returning clients like Joe.

Gayle Jordan, PCHAS’ Advanced Education Coordinator, keeps in touch with Joe to ensure he has everything he needs to move forward academically and professionally. She is proud of the progress he has made. “The hard part for most of these kids is that they age out of our program and enter the adult world with no adult or family support,” said Gayle. “Joe entered into this adult’s world with almost no guidance. We really want to see the kids who leave our Group Homes be successful and we will do everything we can to help them succeed.”

Joe will continue to serve in the Air Force and plans on keeping in touch with PCHAS as he completes his bachelor’s degree. Joe was able to find and follow his path in life, something that is hard for any person to do, and he did so with determination. Joe’s story continues to inspire all of us at PCHAS. We wish him success in his future endeavors.

grew, and waxed
strong in spirit,

and the grace of God was upon him.”

GROUP HOMES FOR CHILDREN

Meet Trisha

Trisha had never been to church before she came to stay with Presbyterian Children's Homes and Services' Group Home in Waxahachie.

Her mom worked hard at her job in a day care center, but she did not earn enough to pay the rent at the apartment where they were living. The family was evicted when they got behind in their rent, and they moved from one homeless shelter to another. Going to church was not something that Trisha's mom even thought about. It was difficult enough just finding a safe place for the family to stay and to feed her children.

Trisha and her four siblings came to live at the safe and loving PCHAS Group Home when Trisha was six years old. PCHAS involved the children in Bible studies and church, and shared with them that there's a loving God who is always present. Trisha and her siblings all enjoyed attending church every Sunday and learning about God. Trisha also joined the youth fellowship group at her church, which met once a week in the evening. All the children said prayers before breakfast each morning and before dinner each night. This helped them develop a life-long faith in God.

When Trisha turned 14 years old, she was invited to be baptized and join the church as a young adult. She agreed and thanked her pastor and Sunday School teacher for teaching her about God's love. Trisha enjoys sharing stories about Jesus with her siblings so that they may find the same comfort.

Her mother came to visit her children at the Waxahachie campus regularly during their many years in residence. She struggled not just with poverty but with alcoholism, so her journey was long and arduous. But with help from PCHAS' Child and Family and Single Parent Family Programs, she eventually became sober, found gainful employment and moved into an apartment of her own! Trisha also helped her mother along the way by sharing with her the good news of Jesus Christ.

When Trisha graduated from high school, she went to college. During her freshman year, she was reunited with her mother, who was recently baptized. The entire family finds strength in God.

“And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom: and the grace of God was upon him.” -- Luke 2:40

SINGLE PARENT FAMILY

Meet Nicole

Many of us see a homeless person – alone – on the street. And it’s heartbreaking. Most people don’t realize that single mothers with children comprise the largest homeless population. These women are struggling to care for themselves and their children. For some, it’s a Herculean task. That’s why PCHAS created its Single Parent Family Program.

Q&A with Nicole, a “graduate” of the Single Parent Family Program

Q What circumstances led you to PCHAS?

A I have bipolar disorder and had lost my job. I was living in a cheap hotel.

Q What do you think your life would have been like if you’d never learned about the PCHAS Single Parent Family Program?

A I would have been homeless. I had no other options. I would have had to give my daughter to my mother and stepfather, and that would have been a very difficult thing for me to do.

Q Have you experienced or learned anything in the program that has made an impact on you?

A Yes, I learned not to judge people. Not everyone has the same values as I do.

Q Has your child experienced or learned anything in the program that has made an impact on her?

A Yes; she used to be very shy and now she is very outgoing.

Q Can you describe what your life is like now?

A I have a job and a home. I still struggle with depression, but I am a much stronger person.

Q What challenges do you face now?

A I still struggle with daily life, but know that I will always have the support I need from Sharon Chevalier, director of the program in Weatherford.

Q Can you describe a PCHAS staff member or volunteer whom you have met in the PCHAS Single Parent Family Program?

A Sharon Chevalier is the most spiritual and the kindest person I know. She has helped me in so many ways I cannot begin to describe the positive changes she has brought about. She saved me and my daughter from homelessness. I will forever be grateful to Sharon and to PCHAS.

“She realized that the staff was there to help her and love her unconditionally.”

TRANSITIONAL LIVING

Meet Justine

Justine, a nineteen-year-old resident of the PCHAS San Antonio Transitional Living Program. Justine entered foster care when she was only six years old. She was removed from that home by Child Protective Services and was adopted by another family. At the age of nine, she was once again abandoned by her adoptive family.

Shortly thereafter, Justine was referred to PCHAS' San Antonio Group Home for girls age eight through eighteen years old. At first, she didn't trust anyone and was resistant to her Home Parents. But after some time, her Home Parents earned her trust. She realized that they were there to help her and loved her unconditionally.

As a teenager, Justine moved to an independent living program in Austin and graduated from high school. Then she moved back to San Antonio and enrolled in community college at Northwest Vista. Justine was referred to the Transitional Living Program by a PCHAS employee she had grown close to while living in the San Antonio Group Home. After just six months in the PCHAS Transitional Living Program, Justine has made a lot of progress.

The Transitional Living Program is helping Justine save money for a car and plan for her academic future. She plans to complete an associate's degree in biology at Northwest Vista and then transfer to Texas A&M University in Galveston to fulfill her dream of becoming a marine biologist.

Justine is truly an inspiration. From living with a biological mother who was a drug-addict to living with an adoptive family who abandoned her at age nine, the odds were stacked against her. But she never gave up. She never ceased to move forward or let her circumstances define her.

Justine is thriving in the Transitional Living Program. “The staff does everything they can to help me, and I am so grateful for what they have given me,” she said. “I not only have a place to live, but also have a group of people I can trust -- and confide in. PCHAS has truly changed my life for the better.”

Despite her troubled past, Justine refuses to give up or allow her past to control her future.
